Civic Elections.

To The Electors of The City of Edmonton.

LADIES and GENTLEMEN:—

In presenting myself as a candidate at the forthcoming election as Alderman, I wish first of all to say that I belong to no party, clique or association, when seeking your suffrages as I think such are detrimental to the best interests of any City.

I am a firm and strong supporter of Municipal Ownership of public utilities. It will be my constant endeavor if elected to bring about such a condition whenever the opportunity presents itself and I will also add that every condition which hitherto has been entered into by way of contract with the Street Railway will as far as I am concerned be something which will have to be adhered to in every particular.

My experience for the last 15 years in the West, viz. in Vancouver and Rosland, B. C. and Seattle and Spokane, Wash., enable me to say that I am fully conversant with the progress and development of these the most up to date and progressive cities west of Winnipeg and this experience I intend to use for the development of Edmonton if elected.

Edmonton offers the best investments of any city in the Dominion to-day and only requires capital to develop her resources.

SINGLE TAX—I am opposed at this time to the enforcement of the principal as being both unwise and unfair in my mind.

It will be impossible for me to call upon you all personally but by this address respectfully ask for your support and influence. I will be glad at any time to answer any questions regarding my views municipally.

Respectfully yours,

W. S. Weeks

BOARD OF TRADE

IMPORTANT QUESTIONS

Discussed by the Business Men of the City. Edmonton and the Railway Question

The annual general meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the Council Chamber yesterday afternoon. Among those present were President Morris, Secretary Sims and Messrs. Mercer, McDougall, Garipey, Weeks, Fraser, Clarke, Stewart, Taylor, McGeorge, Campbell and Mills. A delegation composed of Mayor Short and Councillors Cushing, Fraser, May and Picard were present from the Council.

The first business taken up was a communication from the Windsor Board of Trade embodying a resolution recently passed by that Board favoring Government control and operation of the telephone systems of the country. The Edmonton Board were asked to put themselves on record by passing a similar resolution if they saw fit. The Board decided that the question was one which should be fully discussed before any decisive action was taken.

Secretary Sims gave a verbal report of J. L. Porter's visit to the Toronto Exhibition in charge of a display of the products of the Edmonton district. In connection with this the Board of Trade passed resolutions thanking the donors of the different products that went to make up the exhibit.

The next matter of business discussed by the Board was the possible early entering of the city by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The C. P. R. is anxious to get a footing in Edmonton and it is reported is endeavoring to obtain running rights over the Edmonton, Yukon and Pacific railway. The Canadian Northern is said to be anxious to commence grading operations early in the spring from Edmonton eastward. This would be very important to Edmonton as it would tend to work up a wholesale trade for this city. It was then moved by W. S. Weeks, seconded by A. B. Campbell:

"That Mr. Peters of the C. P. R. be asked to obtain from the C. P. R. Company the lowest possible rate on steel and timber for MacKenzie and Mann, in order that grading and the laying of track may be commenced from here as soon as possible in the spring." Carried.

Arising out of this it was moved by H. C. Taylor, seconded by W. H. Clarke:

"Whereas, this Board understands that the Canadian Northern railway have offered to the town or any other corporation their line between here and Strathcona to be operated, and as we have reason to believe that the

C. P. R. will be willing to finish construction up the hill to the proposed station, pay interest on the capital invested and operate all C. & E. trains through to the Edmonton station; that we are of the opinion if the Council can assist in bringing about such an agreement it would be advantageous to the city." Carried.

The following further motion in connection with the same matter was moved by J. A. McDougall and seconded by W. H. Clarke:

"That this Board thinking it to be in the interests of the city, wishes to put itself on record as being in favor of union stations, etc., consolidating railway business and further desires that the city Council bear this in mind when dealing with future railway companies."

This concluded the regular business of the Board of Trade and Mayor Short, on behalf of the City Council, was then heard. A meeting had been arranged for between the City Council and F. W. Morse, 1st Vice President of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway company, for next Tuesday in Chicago to discuss the terms upon which the railway will come to Edmonton and erect their car shops here. The sending of a delegation provoked a great deal of discussion. It was the unanimous feeling of the meeting that the site asked for by the G. T. P. should not be used for railroad purposes. The discussion was embodied in the following resolution, moved by W. H. Clarke and seconded by J. H. Garipey:

"That the Board of Trade endorse the idea of sending a delegation to meet the G. T. P. officials in Chicago and that in the opinion of the Board the better way to make a bargain would be to give the railway company a bonus, provided that they guarantee that Edmonton should be on the main line and that the divisional shops should be located here; further that the delegates endeavor to make a definite agreement with the railway company and that the delegates urge for a union station." Carried.

Mayor Short and F. Oliver, M. P., were named as the delegation to interview the G. T. P. railway authorities in Chicago.

The meeting then adjourned.

Christmas Presents.

If you have not already enquired from yourself what you will get for Christmas as a present to your friend, you will certainly soon be doing so.

Many People

Are disappointed in getting the right thing, because they put off purchasing too long. This is why we want to remind you so early to buy your goods before stocks are depleted. Ross Bros. Limited, have a lovely stock of Holiday Goods, consisting of Ladies' Embroidery Sets, Scissors either single or in Sets, Gentlemen's Travelling Companions, Manicure Sets, Razors and Pen Knives.

Cutlery

Of every description, Plated Ware, Shaving Sets, Carving Knives and Sets and Skates and in fact a thousand and one things, that space will not permit to mention. Now these goods are not cheap goods, but are good goods that will be sold cheap. We realize that nearly everyone buying a present for their friends wants to get as nice an article for as little money as possible, with this idea in sight, we have "remarked" much of our holiday goods and we feel confident that you can buy from us nearly twice the amount for the same money, as you can elsewhere in the city.

This Seems To Be

A pretty broad statement but if you will call and inspect and ask the price we are sure you will agree with us. Now remember that we have not got all the Christmas Goods in town and we expect that our supply will soon be exhausted, so come early and pick out what you want and we will keep it for you until such time as you instruct us to deliver the goods.

ASSEMBLY NOMINATIONS

The Edmonton local electoral district is to be congratulated on the nomination of Mr. Cross as a candidate for its representation at Regina. This is a time and an occasion when the best men are needed at Regina, and Mr. Cross is one of Edmonton's best men. He has lived here for a number of years and has succeeded in his profession. He has been active in both federal elections which have taken place since he came, and has established a reputation as a man of definite views, decisive action and untiring energy. The very qualities which are needed in a representative. Although hesitating not an instant to sacrifice time, energy and talent to the cause in which he believed, he has not been a self-seeker; and he gets the nomination for the local Assembly not so much because he wanted it as because the people wanted him, as a man of ideas and of the necessary courage and ability to give them effect. The large vote which he received in the Convention is a sufficient evidence of the estimation in which he is held. The more so because his opponent was a man of such character and standing as to poll the solid vote of the part of the district to which he belonged. It must always be a matter for regret that where two good men oppose each other only one can win. Mr. Cross by reason of his location and his previous activity in federal politics was necessarily better known throughout the district than Mr. McPherson, and just as Mr. McPherson received the solid vote where he was best known, so Mr. Cross received the equally solid vote throughout all the rest of the district where he was better known than Mr. McPherson.

It is a particularly pleasing fact in connection with the Convention that once the decision was reached in favor of Mr. Cross, Mr. McPherson and his friends, recognizing that he stood for the same general principles as themselves, turned in to support him in the most whole-hearted manner. This is a compliment to Mr. Cross and at the same time an evidence of high-mindedness and regard for the public interest that is most creditable to the parties concerned.

If Mr. Cross is elected, as may fairly be expected, in view of the Convention, Edmonton will be well represented and the welfare of the Territories as a whole, and especially of this section, will have an earnest and able champion at Regina.

PUBLIC MEETING

ALDERMANIC CANDIDATES

State Their Views on the Civic Question of the Day. Largely Attended Meeting

The public meeting in Robertson Hall last night, called to give an opportunity to aspiring aldermen to state their position in regard to civic affairs, was largely attended. The large audience was composed of the ratepayers of the city, among whom were the most prominent business and professional men. The meeting was very attentive, all the candidates being given a good hearing. On the platform were eighteen out of nineteen of the candidates, for aldermen. G. Koerman was absent. M. M. Brunelle, who was placed in nomination, has retired from the contest. Mayor Short occupied the chair, and in a few words stated the object of the meeting, and briefly referred to the principal questions before the electorate at the present election.

D. R. Fraser was the first aspirant for the new council to be heard. As an old-timer here, and from his present and past experience as a member of the council, he was closely in touch with civic matters. He was a strong believer in municipal ownership of public utilities, and had done everything possible to have the public utilities of Edmonton owned and controlled by the people. On the question of the street railway, he was opposed to the granting of the charter to a private corporation from the start. He had strongly opposed it at the council board, and would as strongly oppose any extension of time being granted the company in which to carry out their agreement. If elected he would do all in his power to serve the best interests of the city.

Chas. May dealt chiefly with his record as a councillor during the present year, referring to the work carried on by the board of works committee, of which he is chairman. Everything possible was done to keep the streets in as good a condition as possible, in view of the water and sewer service connections having recently been laid. Sidewalks had been laid where petitioned for throughout the municipality. He believed in permanent street improvements where possible. He had considerable to do with the installation of the new electric light plant. When the new machinery is all in place, and in running order, the city will have as up-to-date and perfect a system as there is in any town or city of the Dominion of equal size. He was opposed to any extension of time being granted to the street railway company.

S. C. Paton stated that there was some misunderstanding regarding his candidature, owing to his name not being on the voters' list. This was an omission, as he was a tax-payer and was a properly qualified candidate. No extension of time to the street railway was one of his planks of his platform. Regarding the provisions of the new city charter, he believed that all the council could do would be to give it a fair trial. He believed that the city should have a better system of street lighting, and if a member of the new council, would see that this should be carried out.

K. A. McLeod first dealt with the street railway agreement. The company had up to the present miserably failed in carrying out their side of the agreement, and it was doubtful if they intended to do so. The agreement was a hold-up from start to finish, and he would be strongly opposed to granting any extension of time to the company. Regarding the scheme of single taxation, there was only one course open to the new council, and that was to give it a fair trial. He was strongly in favor of municipal ownership, although he believed that in some particulars the city works could have been carried on less expensively than they had been done this year. He would not make a personal canvass, but if elected would devote a large part of his time to the interests of the city.

P. E. Batchelor first referred to the new city charter. The new council, notwithstanding its provisions, had to make the best of it. All street improvements should be of a permanent nature, and especially along the business portion of Jasper avenue. Regarding his stand on railway questions, he would do all in his power to secure the entrance to the city of all possible railroads in the least expensive manner. He was opposed to the granting of an extension of time to the street railway company, and would do all in his power to get the charter back for the city. He would work hard in the interests of clean civic government.

A. York had had three years' experience as mayor of the town which he had left to come to Edmonton. He favored a progressive policy, consistent with the city revenue. He would make the street railway company live up to their agreement. He was opposed to a change in the system of taxation at the present, the growing time in Edmonton's history. The question of such taxation should have been referred to the people, and he would have then been willing to abide by the decision. A good up-to-date city park should be immediately secured. The city hall was a disgrace to the city, and should have been replaced by a more fitting building. A proper city market on an extensive scale should be established in the city.

W. A. Griesbach strongly favored the principle of municipal ownership. One particular plank in his platform was the perfecting of the present fire department. The capacity of the waterworks plant was only sufficient to supply three lines of hose in case of fire, and also carry on the regular water service. He believed that an additional pump should be installed at the power house. He favored a progressive policy, consistent with careful economy. He would oppose an extension of time to the street railway company, and if elected would hold monthly public meetings with the ratepayers and discuss the civic questions being handled by the council.

W. A. Dayl stated his opposition to the granting of an extension of time to the street railway company, and his strong endorsement of the principle of municipal ownership. The health by-law should be more strictly enforced. Although a laboring man he was not the candidate of any particular organization, and if elected would serve the best interests of the city, irrespective of class or organization.

T. M. Grindley was opposed to any extension of time to the street railway company, and was a firm believer in the city owning the public utilities. In this connection he would endorse the purchase of the Edmonton District Telephone Company. As a business man, if elected to the council, he would use his business experience in the best interests of the city.

D. W. McDonald first referred to the street railway question. There was no virtue in an agreement if it was made to be broken, and he would have the company live up to the agreement or forfeit the charter. He was opposed to granting a slice in the residential portion of the city for railway purposes. The council should make the best possible agreements with the railway companies entering the city, and then submit them to the electors. He favored municipal ownership of the telephone system, and read from a letter from the president of the Bell Telephone Company, wherein he stated that the Bell company had no intention of competing with the city system, but would be pleased to work their long distance system in conjunction with the municipal system. He believed that all milk sold in the city should be subject to inspection.

W. H. Clarke was a candidate because he believed that a practical business man is needed on the Council at the present time. He would do everything to the best interests of the city at large. He favored municipal ownership; the extension of the water and sewer systems; and an efficient fire brigade to give the ratepayers relief from the high insurance rates. The purchase of the telephone system was a step in the right direction. Regarding single taxation, he thought it would put real estate values on a solid footing and that the principle of a man being taxed for improvements made was wrong. No extension of time should be given the street railway company and if the charter reverts to the city, it should be operated by the citizens. He was in favor of the payment of a bonus to railways locating their shops in the city but was opposed to being held up by a railway company for any particular piece of property, a street grader and steam roller should be purchased; streets should be boulevarded and permanent sidewalks built; street naming should be gone on with. He recommended municipal fire insurance and would work in the interests of clean city government.

Robt Lee promised to insist on the street railway company living up to their charter. The new city charter should be given a good trial and if amendments were considered necessary application would be made to the Assembly at Regina for them. He favored the laying of permanent sidewalks. He was in favor of municipal ownership having taken his stand on this question during his past experience on the Council.

W. S. Weeks stated his strong objection to an extension of time to the street railway company and would do all in his power to have the charter revert to the city. He was a strong exponent of municipal ownership. Permanent street improvements should be made and especially along Jasper avenue. A part of the municipal sewerage system should be enlarged. A regular market should be established and the fire brigade made efficient and a credit to the city. He was opposed to the system of single taxation. The city should follow the plan so successfully adopted by the Dominion Government regarding immigration, and advertise for capital to develop our resources in eastern European cities. The wages of the city employees, he believed, were too small.

J. H. Menard has for years been a strong believer in municipal ownership. He had favored the acquiring of the water and light systems and had taken his share in having the telephone system purchased by the city. He believed in the establishment of a market and the laying of permanent sidewalks. The street railway company should be compelled to live up to their agreement or forfeit the charter. The single tax scheme was a good method of equalizing taxation. If it is not found practicable the charter can be amended. He favored extensive street lighting.

F. G. Haldane was opposed to any extension of time to the street railway company. If elected, he would do his best to serve the best interests of the city.

Dr. Wilson stated that he would give the same attention to the city business as he would to his own private business. He had voted for the street railway agreement believing it to be a good thing at the time. The company should have lived up to their agreement. However if the company came to the city at any time with what he considered to be a good business proposition he would take the same stand as he had at first. He favored municipal ownership. The new Council is bound down to levy the taxes this year under the new city charter.

Thos. Bellamy had been opposed to the disposal of the street railway charter from the first and would oppose any extension of time to the company. The single tax provision of the new charter was a step in the right direction and he would support it until he found it was not a progressive measure. He would not make a personal canvas, but would if elected, devote his time to the best interests of the city.

J. R. Boyle had accepted the nomination at the solicitation of a large number of his friends. A week or so previously at the first public meeting for the discussion of municipal affairs he had strongly expressed his convictions on the street railway question and he believed that men interested in the street railway agreement were making an organized effort to knife him. The company had not made an honest attempt to live up to the agreement and it was not entitled to any consideration. If elected Alderman he would see that the company lived up to their charter or forfeited it. He did not think that the company would ask for an extension of time but would come to the Council with a new, fine looking arrangement which would serve their interests as well as an extension of time. He would strongly oppose any such arrangement. At council meetings he would advocate the recording of the votes on all important questions. The single tax provision in the city charter, he regarded as an experiment. He thought that the old Council were not themselves sufficiently versed on the single tax question. They did not appear to be in possession of any facts or figures in connection with it. The new Council would have to enforce it to the best of their ability. The assessors should be called on to make a careful valuation of all buildings as well as land in the city so that the public would know just what and how much property was exempt from taxation. If the system was then found to work unsatisfactorily or inequitably the charter should be amended. The Mayor in his opening remarks had stated that Mr. Trethewey of the street railway had claimed in a defence of his filed in an action that he had employed a man to do what practically amounted to bribing the members of the Council to support the granting of the franchise to him. Mr. Boyle was surprised to find that the members of the Council had in their addresses avoided any reference to this matter and he thought this was a good time and place to clear the matter up. If there was nothing in this allegation of Mr. Trethewey, the councillors should say so to this meeting. He was not the nominee of any particular clique or class of people and if elected would do all in his power to further the best interests of the city.

Councillors May and Picard strongly resented Mr. Boyle's allusion to the members of the old council, and said that they had never been approached by any person with a view to improperly influencing their votes on the street railway question. They were absolutely opposed to any extension of time being granted the company. Councillor May stated that he had favored the agreement when it had been granted, as in the best interests of the city, but that the company had shown that they were not honest in their intentions, and he would do all in his power to have the charter revert to the city.

K. W. McKenzie, mayor elect, was called upon, and took the opportunity to thank the ratepayers for expressing their confidence in him by electing him mayor of the city of Edmonton for 1905 by acclamation.

Mayor Short stated that the provisions of the city charter had been explained and ratified at a public meeting, and if it did not work out properly it would be because the ratepayers would elect incompetent men to the council.

W. H. Clarke moved a vote of thanks to the retiring mayor and council, which was carried unanimously, and the meeting adjourned.

A gentleman who was interviewing a coachman asked him: "Why did you leave the last place you lived at?" "Well, sir," replied the coachman, "I didn't like it at all, and was glad to leave. But I could go back at any time I liked."

"Then if you could go back again that shows you must bear a good character, so I'll engage you," said the gentleman.

It afterwards transpired that the last place the coachman lived was a prison.—Chicago Journal.

The Canadian Northwest Homestead Regulations

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age to the extent of one quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

ENTRY.—Entry may be made per the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or, if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10.00 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, reside upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent, may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If a settler has obtained a patent for his homestead, or a certificate for the issue of such patent, countersigned in the manner prescribed by this Act, and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

(4) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same township or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of Clauses 2, 3, or 4, must or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, and have besides 80 acres substantially.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd June, 1899.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled, and the land may be again thrown open for entry.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the local agent, sub-agent, or Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Information.—Newly arrived immigrants will receive at the Immigration Office, in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office, in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing land to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Lands Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

JAMES A. SMART,

Deputy Minister of the Interior. N.B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands to which the regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

MANITOBA HOUSE

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE

Opening of the Second Session of the Eleventh Legislature of Manitoba

Winnipeg, December 7.—The following is the speech from the throne delivered at the opening of the Manitoba House yesterday afternoon.

"Mr Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Manitoba:

"I heartily welcome you to this the second session of the eleventh Legislature of Manitoba. It was with feelings of sincere regret that the inhabitants of this province, a few weeks ago, said farewell to the Earl of Minto, late Governor-General of this Dominion, and to his gracious consort. We hope to join in a short time with the rest of the provinces of the Dominion in extending a hearty, loyal welcome to Earl Grey, the Governor-General of Canada. I note with deep thankfulness that the harvest of the past season, speaking generally, for the province has been an abundant one, and the excellent prices which our farmers are receiving for their products will add greatly to the wealth of our country. The continued success of the railway policy of the Government is a matter upon which I can congratulate you, and increasing benefits from the operation of this policy are being received by our farmers."

Supreme Court in Lethbridge

Lethbridge, December 7.—Court opened here before Judge Harvey.
The bar welcomed him. There are 9 criminal cases, there being five horse thefts, one of stealing of twelve hundred sheep, and three forgeries.

Borden's Surprise

Montreal, December 6.—Borden denies all knowledge of an alleged

BATTLESHIP SUNK

IN PORT ARTHUR HARBOR

St. Petersburg Takes a Gloomy View of the War Situation To-day. Third Squadron May go to the Far East

London, December 8. — A report from Tien Tsen states that the Japanese shell fire sunk the Russian battleship, Perviet.

The Daily Telegraph's correspondent before Port Arthur, cabling on December 7, says that the Russians ceased their attempt to recapture 203 Meter Hill on December 6.

The report that the Emperor has agreed to the despatch of a third squadron to the Far East has no confirmation from any quarters.

In connection with the story from St. Petersburg regarding negotiations with Turkey for the purchase of Argentina and Chilean cruisers, a curious feature is the fact that the Ottoman embassy at London yesterday issued an official announcement declaring that there was no foundation for the rumors that Turkey was purchasing or intending to purchase Argentina men-of-war, either for her own use, or for the use of any other power.

St. Petersburg, December 8. — The news that the Japanese have mounted heavy guns on 203 meter hill is regarded as seriously significant, and has created a deep depression at the war office. If the report of the sinking of the Russian warships in the harbor of Port Arthur are confirmed, it destroys the last hope of a sortie, and when the end comes, nothing remains but to sink those that remain in deep water to prevent them falling into Japanese hands.

London, December 6. — According to a St. Petersburg despatch, to the Daily Mail, the Emperor has agreed to the despatch of a third squadron to the Far East, comprising of the battleships Paul and Slava, which will be completed as soon as possible. Five older battleships and cruisers, and forty torpedo boat destroyers. The whole squadron, the despatch adds, it is hoped will be fitted out in two months, and probably it will be commanded by Vice-Admiral Choukoin, St. Petersburg, November 7. — A story is current here that when Russia some time ago sought to purchase seven Argentina and Chilean warships, the two countries declined to sell vessels direct to Russia, fearing the possibility of being subsequently held liable to pay heavy damages.

ges. The question of selling to a third party was also discussed, and the possibility of Turkey playing the role was suggested, but a guarantee against further liabilities was demanded, whereupon Russia abandoned the project. Great Britain, says the story, offered to advance the money to Turkey to buy the ships in return for certain concessions, which would permit Great Britain to erect a second Gibraltar on the coast of Yamul, opposite Perim Island, giving Great Britain control of the lower entrance to the Red Sea. Negotiations along these lines are said to be now progressing. It is added that Russia is so much alarmed over the report that an emissary has been despatched to Constantinople to block the game.
